問題 A 次の会話が2回読まれるのを聞いて、問題用紙の指示に従って答える。

Jim: How many members are there in your club?

Mari: About 100. Many members in our club started to play music in an orchestra when they became high school students. I began to learn the violin when I joined this club, too.

Jim: So you practice very hard every day, don't you? How long do you usually practice?

Mari: I'll tell you our schedule. From Monday to Wednesday and on Friday, we practice for two hours until six. On Thursday, we have a meeting before our practice. So, our practice begins at five. If we want to practice more, we can do so from 7:30 to 8:10 on Friday morning. Every Tuesday, special teachers come to our club to teach us how to play the violin, the flute and the trumpet. They are professional musicians. We love to listen to their music, so we usually run to the music room and ask them to play some music before our practice.

Jim: Do you practice on Saturday and Sunday, too?

Mari: We practice on Saturday but not on Sunday. On Saturday, we practice for four hours and 30 minutes until 5:30 in the afternoon. After practicing in a small group, everyone gets together in the music room and plays music like a concert. Oh, we do this on Wednesday, too.

Jim: So you mean you practice playing music like a concert on Wednesday and on Saturday.

Mari: That's right.

問題 B 次の英文が2回読まれるのを聞いて、問題用紙の指示に従って答える。

Do you like riding a bike? I like it very much. I often go out on my bike on Sundays. Today, I will talk about one of my bike trips in March.

It was a sunny morning. I left home at about ten o'clock and got to the sea before noon. I ate lunch and enjoyed walking along the beach and looking at the beautiful sea.

At about one o'clock in the afternoon, I started to go back. An hour later, it began to rain. I thought, "What should I do? Do I have to go back in the rain?" Then I found a small store. I stopped by the door of the store and looked at the sky. A few minutes later, a woman came out of the store and said, "It's cold here. Please come in." I said, "I'm OK here. I will not buy anything. I will wait here." She smiled and said, "You don't have to buy anything. Come in." I said, "Thank you," and went into the store with her. The store was small and old, but there were many kinds of things we eat or use every day. The woman looked as old as my mother. She gave me hot tea and asked where I was going. I talked about my bike trip to the sea and said that I was going home. She was surprised and said, "Did you go to the sea on your bike? It was very hard, wasn't it?" After that, we talked about many things. I talked about my family and school. She told me about her son who was also a high school student. Some time later, the rain stopped. I thanked her, said goodbye, and started to go home.

That's all about the bike trip in March. I really enjoyed talking with the woman who was much older than I. I never thought I would do such a thing during the trip, but now I think that made the bike trip more wonderful. Thank you.
